To Whom It May Concern,

Jiarui Wang was a full time student at UNSW College in the Foundation Studies Program, and a committed member of the UNSW College Volunteer Program since April 2024. In his time as a volunteer, Jiarui successfully completed the service training program and applied these skills to his role as a volunteer.

Jiarui continuously demonstrates his commitment to supporting the UNSW College community through his engagement with fellow students in the delivery of events and activities on campus. His friendly and charismatic presence makes him highly regarded with his fellow students, both current and new.

We have seen Jiarui develop his communication and leadership skills through his participation in a variety of activities and events and has demonstrated on multiple occasions his ability to work effectively, both independently and as part of a team. Jiarui is always willing to go above and beyond to achieve the tasks or goals that are assigned to him.

Jiarui has quickly become one of our most valued and trusted volunteers and has demonstrated strong verbal communication skills, flexibility, organisational skills and a strong customer service focus. He has also has proven himself to be a highly self-motivated and a capable leader.

Please contact me further for information about Jiarui.

Yours sincerely,

Chris Nelson
